Bibliogov. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 22 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.1in. GAO discussed the Department of the Interiors efforts to reconcile Indian trust fund accounts, focusing on: (1) its efforts to implement trust fund management improvements; and (2) the usefulness of a legislated settlement process for resolving unsettled account balances. GAO noted that: (1) 2.4 billion in receipt and disbursement transactions could not be traced to supporting documentation at the end of fiscal year 1995; (2) Interior did not disclose the methodology used in the reconciliation process in its reconciliation report, or discuss the extent to which substitutions were made to lease samples; (3) 2 tribes have accepted their account reconciliations, 3 tribes are disputing their reconciliation results, and the remaining 275 tribes are undecided; (4) a legislated settlement process could be used to resolve disputes concerning tribal account balances; (5) this legislation would include a mediation process, and if needed, binding arbitration; (6) Interiors trust fund management, and accounting systems controls do not ensure accurate trust fund accounting and asset management; (7) Interior will face costly reconciliations and settlements in the future if it does not correct its trust fund...
