

Supporting South Asian Families with a Child with Severe Disabilities

By Yasmeen Akram, Chris Hatton, Robina Shah, Eric Emerson, Janet Robertson

Jessica Kingsley Publishers. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Supporting South Asian Families with a Child with Severe Disabilities, Yasmeen Akram, Chris Hatton, Robina Shah, Eric Emerson, Janet Robertson, Social workers and allied professionals will find this book to be a valuable tool, highlighting ways of improving the cultural sensitivity of disability services and parental and family support. Combining a wide-ranging survey and in-depth interviews, the authors build a rich picture of the lives of South Asian families with a child with severe disabilities and place their experiences in the wider context of how culture and ethnicity can impact on a family's experience of disability. The authors offer clear ideas for practical improvements in: * awareness and mobilisation of formal support services * parental and extended family acceptance of the child's disability * availability of support groups and other informal support * parents' physical and mental health * the child and family's social life linking their findings to recent policy initiatives to improve the information and support offered to all carers. Policy makers, academics and practitioners in health, social work and education will find the authors give an invaluable insight into the cultural, religious and language needs of ethnic minority...
