Wilkins, Sr., was noted. A horseswap with a Yankee, in which Peter, after half an hour s higgling, found himself the undisputed owner of both horses and ten dollars boot, was the cornerstone of his fame. Every trip to Augusta added another block; and by the time Peter arrived at the years of discretion, he stood upon a lofty structure with all the green rubbed off, the pride of his family, and the universal favorite of his acquaintances. The night before his departure, the family were all gathered around the roaring fire, Mrs. and the Misses Wilkins engaged in ironing and mending our hero s Sunday apparel, the old man smoking his...
